DETAILED ACTION

I. RELEVANT ART CITED BY THE EXAMINER

1. The following prior art made of record and not relied upon is cited to establish the level of skill in the applicant's art and those arts considered reasonably pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See MPEP 707.05(c).
2. The following reference teaches an instrumented program using a probe for tracing program execution.

U.S. PATENT NUMBER

US 6,161,200

II. REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
2. Per the instant office action, claims 1-5, 7, 9-10 and 12-20 are considered as allowable subject matter.
3. As per claim 1

The primary reasons for allowance of claim 1 in the instant application is the combination of a method for storing a data set having an enabled probe identification component and an associated data component in a buffer wherein "the stored data set size is determined, during buffering, using an enabled probe identification associated with the stored data set, and wherein the enabled probe identification component comprises the enabled probe identification, and wherein the enabled probe identification identifies an action defined by a tracing function associated with a probe of an instrumented program”.

4. As per claim 17

The primary reasons for allowance of claim 17 in the instant application is the combination of a system for storing a data in a data set in a buffer wherein “the enabled probe identification identifies an action defined by a tracing function associated with the probe ... wherein the stored data set size is determined, during buffering, using the enabled probe identification”.

5. The prior art of record including the disclosures under section I above neither anticipates nor renders obvious the above-recited combination.

6. Dependent claims 2-5, 7, 9-10, 12-16 and 18-20 are allowable at least for the reasons recited above as including all of the limitations of the allowable independent base claim upon which they depends.

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
